

Child Development and Early Education Program Summer 2008 Seminars

CHDV 122 - Curriculum: Creative Dev/Early Childhood

- This course examines curriculum and activities which enhance the creative development of children in early childhood education and care programs. Specific information on activities in the areas of art, music, creative, and dramatic play with a variety of materials are shared. Seminar format is used.

1 credit                      Resident: $78.00                      Non-Resident: $139.00                      (Prerequisite: None)

CRN 667	Saturday 07/05 & 07/12	8:10 – 5:00	Health & Human Services Bldg- Rm. 102
---------	------------------------	-------------	---------------------------------------	--

CHDV 124 - Curriculum: Early Math Development

- This course examines curriculum which enhances the interest in, and development of, math skills, concepts and awareness in early childhood education and care program. It also focuses on designing and implementing developmentally appropriate strategies, environments, and activities that promote the acquisition of basic concepts about math to include number, measurement, shape, date analysis, problem solving and patterns for preschool aged children.

1 credit                      Resident: $78.00                      Non-Resident: $139.00                      (Perquisite: None)

CRN 668	Saturday 06/21 & 06/28	8:10 – 5:00	Health & Human Services Bldg- Rm. 102	Jean Garratt
---------	------------------------	-------------	---------------------------------------	--------------

CHDV 184 - Children and Stress

- This course examines stress as it relates to children. Specific topics include:
  - Symptoms and causes of stress
  - Situations which are stressful for children
  - Ways to help children cope with stress
  - Techniques for reducing stress
  - (other topics discussed divorce, death, and family violence)

1 credit                      Resident: $78.00                      Non-Resident: $139.00                      (Prerequisite: None)

CRN 669	Saturday 06/07 & 06/14	8:10 – 5:00	Health & Human Services Bldg- Rm. 102	Lavelle Gipson-Tansil
---------	------------------------	-------------	---------------------------------------	-----------------------

CHDV 186—Child Self-Esteem/Positive Discipline

- This course looks at children's self-esteem: what it is, where it comes from, and how it can be fostered in both home and early education settings. It focuses on practical suggestions and teaches positive discipline techniques that build self-esteem.

1 credit                      Resident: $88.00                      Non-resident: $149.00                      (Prerequisite: None)

CRN 670	06/06 – 08/01	ARRANGED	ONLINE	8 Weeks	Mary Fullmer
---------	---------------	----------	--------	---------	--------------

CHDV 197—Special Topics

Understanding Infant/Toddler Behavior

- This course will examine the stages of social and emotional development of infants and toddlers and how to incorporate day to day decisions based on a child's temperamental traits. The focus will be on
  - Exploring why infants/toddlers behave as they do.
  - Reducing caregiver stress by developing an understanding of what realistic expectations are for infant/toddlers.
  - Using positive guidance techniques and appropriate limit setting with infant/toddlers.

1 credit                      Resident: $78.00                      Non-Resident: $139.00                      (Prerequisite: None)

CRN 671	Saturday 07/19 – 07/26	8:10 - 5:00	Health & Human Services Bldg – Rm. 102	Barbara Newby
---------	------------------------	-------------	--	---------------