LANSING COMMUNITY COLLEGE TO HOST FIRST-OF-ITS-KIND REGISTRATION EVENT

Olympic-themed event to coincide with start of Olympic Games in China

LANSING, MICH. (Aug. 6, 2008) – Lansing Community College will host a first-of-its-kind registration event on Friday, Aug. 8 from 8 a.m. until midnight at its downtown campus in the Gannon Building, located at 422 North Washington Square.

“Our college is known for its flexible course offerings that fit into students’ schedules,” said Dr. Brent Knight, president of Lansing Community College. “This event takes that flexibility one step further, offering all of our application and registration services under one roof at times that are convenient for everyone.”

During the event, attendees can:

- Apply for admission on-site
- Complete skills assessment testing or apply for a waiver to determine course placement
- Complete orientation
- Learn about how LCC’s credits transfer to four-year institutions
- Meet with financial aid advisors, apply for financial aid and learn about LCC scholarships
- Determine their tuition rate (resident, non-resident, out-of-state/international)
- Register for classes and explore payment options

The event will feature free parking at the LCC parking ramp on Grand Avenue, a DJ, a live radio remote by 97.5 NOW FM, food and special giveaway prizes.

For more information about the event, call (517) 483-1957 or visit www.lcc.edu.
