LCC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO HOST FREE “CHANGING TIMES: STRATEGIES FOR CAREER AND EMPLOYMENT” WORKSHOP

LANSING - The Lansing Community College Alumni Association will host a workshop called, “Changing Times: Strategies for Career and Employment” from 8:30am to 1:00pm on Friday, August 14, at the LCC West Campus. The purpose of the workshop is to enhance career and employment goals in these changing times by offering relevant tools and sessions. There is no charge for this workshop.

The LCC Alumni Association estimates that over 500,000 people have taken a class at LCC. Each of them is considered alum. According to Manager of Alumni Relations, Andrew J. Lathrop, “Many of our alums are still in the area and adversely affected by the current unemployment situation. We will do anything we can to address their needs by focusing on promoting employment opportunities, offering workshops to sharpen their skills, and motivating them in their efforts.”

The program will include sessions like Career Planning 101 and the well-known Michigan Works! Employability Express Workshop. The workshop will also include breakout sessions covering education beyond the associate degree, starting a business, and personal empowerment. Space is limited to 250 and based upon RSVPs.

For more information or to RSVP visit www.lcc.edu/workshop.

To inquire about press attendance or pre-interviews, call Andrew J. Lathrop at 517/483-1988.
