LCC East and the Extension Centers train staff

LCC East oriented and trained five new staff members to replace staff who left after spring 2022. As a result, LCC East is now open 59 hours per week, serving 735 students in 35 course sections.

Additionally, the Extension and Lifelong Learning director, LCC East coordinator and Livingston County Center coordinator participated in the first session of the reconfigured Emergency Preparedness Planning Team/Incident Management Team.

Surgical Technology student pitching in time to help peers

Karson Kost is current Surgical Technology student and also a previous graduate of the Sterile Processing Program. When talking with Lead Faculty Chris Smelker, Karson said he has been traveling as a sterile processing tech for about two years, and saved up enough money to allow him to not work while enrolled in the Surgical Technology Program. He said this was his goal from the get-go. Karson now volunteers his time with the Sterile Processing Program, sharing his journey with current students. Thank you, Karson!

eLearning expanded this fall to support students using D2L eLearning expanded its reach to students this semester, striving to meet them where they are. The department is now providing resources and services through five avenues of approach, allowing D2L support in-person and online to all students:

+ In D2L
+ Through a Student Resource Site
+ Across multiple campuses
+ Meetings with student service areas on campus
+ Direct communications
In D2L

Students can access on-demand support and training opportunities in D2L. The LCC Help Links Menu is available when students first log into D2L, and provides links to nine service departments identified by students as key to their success, including the Academic Success Coaches, LCC Help Desk, Testing Services and more.

The D2L Help Menu, found in all D2L courses by default, provides access to course help resources for more than 15 common D2L tasks, such as submitting assignments, taking a quiz and viewing grades. Students can also self-enroll in multiple self-paced trainings within D2L to learn about D2L and other online resources like Webex and text-to-speech accessibility tools. More self-paced trainings are added each semester, based on student feedback.

Through a Student Resource Site

The LCC eLearning Department Student Resource Site provides students access to more than 75 guides and videos that focus on utilizing tools within D2L, useful student tips and technology tools. The site includes a staffed Live Chat that students can access during business hours to ask questions about using D2L. The eLearning Department also offers monthly eLearning Live training sessions via Webex. In addition to these services, eLearning also provides a D2L Feedback Form for students to share experiences and ideas to enhance D2L in the future.

Across Campuses

eLearning Department staff are available during business hours Monday through Friday in room 1101 of the TLC Building on the Downtown Campus, as well as throughout West Campus on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Students can drop in and receive one-on-one assistance with using D2L for their courses.

The Downtown Campus office space is also available for students to use for studying, meeting with other students or just charging devices during business hours. In addition, eLearning collaborates with student service areas each semester to share the latest on updates to D2L, as well as provide data and student feedback so that departments may better serve students.
Meetings with Student Service Areas on Campus

eLearning met with student service areas during the fall 2022 kickoff, including the Academic Success Coaches, Library and the Learning Commons to provide updates for the latest enhancements to D2L as well as data-driven analytics that foster student success. These meetings allowed eLearning the opportunity to reconnect with departments in ways not possible during the pandemic. The meetings led to a significant increase in student referrals to eLearning for D2L assistance, especially from within the TLC Building, as well as a rise in student walk-ins for D2L assistance on campus and live chats from students off campus.

Direct Communications

eLearning connects with thousands of students each semester regarding D2L. Communications are disseminated through a variety of messaging means, including weekly D2L announcements, infographics on the student resource site, D2L videos and through LCC’s social media accounts. Communications include new D2L information, timely tips for using D2L tools, invitations to attend online D2L learning opportunities as well as one-on-one assistance. In addition, eLearning sends welcome emails and quick start guides to new students before the start of every semester to help them prepare to take their first course in D2L, whether online or face-to-face.

Success Coaches Office launches its “Student of the Month” Award

Andreana was selected as one of the first students to receive the “Student of the Month” Award for August. She is a Criminal Justice major.

Students are nominated by their Success Coaches for working to increase their GPA or achieving an academic goal.

On receiving the award, Andreana was proud to be nominated for her accomplishment and said, “I told my parents about it. I even put it on my Facebook Page.”
Success Coaches begin 2022-2023 Programming with Ikigai

Ikigai is a Japanese concept referring to something that gives a person a sense of purpose. In September, two Success Coaches – Erin Matesich and Dustin Abrego – offered student engagement around this topic. A large interactive poster was on display outside the Success Lounge (Gannon 2202) in which students could write on post-its responses to prompts – “What you love,” “What the world needs,” “What you can be paid for,” and “What you are good at.” On Thursday, Sept. 29 an event was held in the Gannon Commons inviting students to discuss this concept. A total of 28 students participated.

MSU Humphrey Fellows Classroom Visit

Students in NCLD – Leadership Practicum welcomed Michigan State University Humphrey Fellows to LCC’s campus for a shared knowledge and discussion session. MSU Fellows and LCC students met to discuss their servant leadership styles and shared information about their native countries. The LCC student cohort will continue to build on their relationship with the Fellows by engaging with them in various presentation, community engagement and volunteer opportunities during the academic year.

Board Game Club Begins!

On Sept.16, the first meeting of the “Board Game Club” was held. This new student organization is advised by Academic Success Coaches Matt Lemon and Frank Taylor. 13 participants attended the first meeting, held in the Gannon Commons. The club plans to meet every 2 weeks and continue to offer student spaces to engage and socialize.
Human Resources holds Annual Service Awards Celebration

The Human Resources department held this year’s Service Awards Celebration on Aug. 17 in the Gannon Commons. The event began with breakfast followed by a welcome from Board of Trustees Chair Ryan Buck. The ceremony honored 214 employees who were celebrating five through 45 years of service to the college. Fifty-eight of these employees were able to attend in-person to walk across the stage and receive their award. Additionally, LCC Photographer Kevin Fowler snapped a professional photo of each honoree with Chair Ryan Buck and President Steve Robinson.
Marketing Department

Selected promotional materials for LCC events and programming:

LGBTQ+ History Month

LCC celebrates LGBTQ History Month with an event featuring stories from local LGBTQ+ leaders and LCC students, performances from LCC Theatre’s upcoming play “Queering History” and a conversation with the playwright, special guest Maggie Keenan-Bolger joining via Zoom from New York City. The events were promoted on social media, via a landing page, calendar page, and email invite.

Vinyl Record Club

This ongoing club for record fans started its monthly meetings again and was promoted via social media and updates to its dedicated webpage.

National Transfer Student Week

This week will host University Center partners and MSU on campus with booths and information for LCC students to learn about transfer options available to them. The events were promoted via social, a dedicated website and LCC radio.
Employer Spotlight 2022-23

The Employer Spotlight through Career and Employment Services showcases a local employer each week with an online Q&A and on-campus presence. Marketing promoted this spotlight each week via social, digital signage and a dedicated website.

Performing Arts 22-23 Season

The fall theatre season includes shows, “Queering History” and “Everybody”. The full performing arts season, including theatre, music and dance, were promoted through an ad in the City Pulse arts edition, printed post cards and digital signage.

Scholarship Breakfast

Marketing created the Annual LCC Foundation Scholarship Breakfast invitation and program. The Scholarship Breakfast was held on Sept. 30.

Lansing Community College West Campus Technical Careers division attends Dansville High School College Fair

On Wednesday Sept. 28, 2022, Lansing Community College Technical Careers Division attended a College Fair at Dansville High School. Representatives from LCC met with over 150 prospective students to promote the amazing programs LCC West Campus has to offer as well as inform students on employment fields and opportunities they were unaware even existed.
LCC honored for veteran services

LCC has received the Best for Vets designation for the 2022-2023 school year through Military Times. LCC placed 183rd overall, out of 311 ranked schools nationwide, and 145th out of 223 ranked public institutions. Designees include large four-year institutions and community colleges, private and public schools.

Dana Cogswell from the Center for Data Science was a huge help in providing some data needed to complete the survey this year. Various figures were needed, including veteran student GPA, retention, persistence, completion and graduation rates, with a comparison to non-veteran students.

With this designation, LCC is now a Best for Vets school and a Veteran-Friendly school for 2022-2023.

LCC’s fall 2022 military-connected student enrollment increased by 12% from the fall 2021 semester. We are hoping this trend will continue as we slowly move out of the COVID-19 pandemic.

As part of the Veteran-Friendly school designation, Andrew Cosgrove was able to attend the Michigan Veteran Affairs Agency Annual Veteran-Friendly School Conference in Grand Rapids on Sept. 27. The event included great sessions, including on mental health, women veterans, and panels for student veterans and school Q&A. Information was also shared on the new PACT Act, which will assist veterans in obtaining VA disability for exposure to burn pits while serving overseas. It was great seeing and talking with colleagues and meeting new colleagues for the first time, since some had started in their positions during the pandemic.

This fall, the college will also bring back the Veterans Day Memorial Ceremony for the first time in three years. It will take place Nov. 11 at the LCC Veteran Memorial, housed in the HHS rotunda. Preparations are being made for three veterans to be inducted this year. Event info will be distributed to the college and community in the coming weeks.

Fall 2022 New Student Kickoff

On Aug, 17, LCC welcomed 192 new-to-LCC students and 208 guests for our annual New Student Kickoff event, held on the Mall between the Gannon and Arts & Sciences buildings on LCC’s Downtown Campus. The event offers a mingling opportunity for students to get acclimated to campus.

Admissions Counselors were on hand to provide campus tours and guided classroom tours based on student schedules. Academic Success Coaches were also in attendance to help students find classrooms and offices as well as answer any last-minute questions prior to start of the semester. Enrollment Support Specialists staffed the StarZone, handing out StarCards and assist students in printing schedules. Student staff from Academic and Career Pathways helped with check-in.

Resource tables included LCC’s Career and Employment Services, Library, Academic Success Coaches, Academic Advising, Student Access, Student Life, Adult Resource Center, Counseling, Global Student Services, Military and Veteran Services, and Michigan Reconnect.

Students enjoyed catering, fun games like large Jenga and cornhole, and a DJ for music and karaoke.

The highlight of the night was five LCC students winning $1,000 scholarships. All students who pre-registered for the event were entered into the scholarship giveaway.
LCC hosts Michigan Community College Association Leadership Academy

On Sept. 8-9, the Michigan Community College Association (MCCA) hosted its 2022-2023 Leadership Academy at LCC’s West Campus. There were 37 participants from 22 colleges, including two from LCC – Associate Dean of Technical Careers Shon’ta Dwyer and Director of Auxiliary Services Cynthia Olivarez Rooker.

President Steve Robinson, along with Montcalm Community College President Stacy Young and Mott Community College President Beverly Walker-Griffea were asked to serve as guest speakers. Dr. Robinson spoke on the topic “Emerging Trends in Higher Education and How Community Colleges Serve Their Communities.” He shared his journey into the role of president and talked about changes in the community college system, trends he’s observing and how LCC prepares itself to meet the needs of its community.

The Leadership Academy is a hands-on, 10-month, cohort-based professional development program for emerging leaders in the community college sector.

Congratulations for being accepted into the program!

LCC hosts Mid-Michigan Red Cross Blood Drive

On Sept. 1, LCC hosted a blood drive in the Michigan Room at the Downtown Campus. President Steve Robinson and Trustee Robert Proctor both serve on the mid-Michigan Red Cross Board, and were pleased to bring blood drives back to campus.

Dr. Robinson and Trustee Proctor joined other LCC employees in volunteering their time during the blood drive.

The need for blood is constant, and only volunteer donors can fulfill that need for patients in our community. Nationwide, someone needs a unit of blood every 2 to 3 seconds, and most of us will need blood in our lifetime. A special thank you to all who came out to donate blood!
Pedal with the Prez wraps up the fall

Sept. 21 wrapped up the last ride of the season for Pedal with the Prez. The first ride took place in late April, and continued bi-weekly throughout the summer. Pedal with the Prez is a fun, social ride along the Grand River Trail through downtown, Old Town and REO Town. New this year, the first 25 riders received a “Pedal with the Prez Posse” T-shirt. Rides began at the Granger Clock Tower on LCC’s Downtown Campus, and each ride ended with President Steve Robinson treating the group to ice cream.

Historical Walking Tour

Earlier this summer, President Steve Robinson hosted an in-depth historical walking tour, led by historian and professor David Siwik. The 90-minute tour began at Upward Bound, in the center of the Downtown Campus, and guided participants through the ever-changing landscape of LCC and the surrounding area. A tour of the first floor of the Historic Herrmann House, the current residence of President Robinson and his family, was included.

One participant said: “I just wanted to say thank you for hosting the historical walking tour yesterday. I had a really great time and learned a lot! This was my first time attending this kind of event, and I appreciate the opportunity to join.”
President Robinson on “Your College-Bound Kid” Podcast

In July, 2022, President Steve Robinson was invited to participate in an interview with Mark Stucker, founder and owner of School Match 4U, Inc., author of “171 Answers to the Most-Asked College Admission Questions” and podcast co-host. LCC was the college spotlight in this weekly podcast series. In the interview, Dr. Robinson debunked many myths about community college and talked about the great opportunities community college offers. The interview is here.

SBDC at LCC Participates in inaugural Capital Afrofest celebration

On Sept. 23, Senior Business Consultant Darryl Horton participated in the inaugural Capital Afrofest Celebration, hosted by Tatse restaurant. The event celebrated and represented African food, culture, fashion and music. Darryl shared information about pathways to business ownership and the free services of the SBDC at LCC.

Special guests included Mayor Andy Schor and State Rep. Sarah Anthony.

SBDC delivers “Writing a Business Plan Seminar”

Business Consultant Kellie Hanford presented “Writing a Business Plan” to an eager crowd of entrepreneurs. Components of the training included organizational structure, marketing mix and development of a comprehensive financial plan.
SBDC delivers “Writing a Business Plan Seminar”

“Starting my own business meant really starting from scratch. I had no business background. And that’s actually when I discovered everything that the Small Business Development Center at Lansing Community College is doing and took full advantage of everything they offered. The SBDC gave me not only immediate access to resources, but then those resources gave me more access – working with the business coach, working with an accountant, working with my website developer. And every single one of those people has connected me to either more grants and funds, more people to do business with, and opportunities to speak and grow my business. I would encourage anybody who has a dream, an idea, a vision to reach out, make a phone call, find out what’s available to you, because the SBDC at Lansing Community College, they do care, a lot.”

On Sept. 14, the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division (CEWD) celebrated the graduation of the inaugural technical support specialist cohort. This program was provided through the Job Training Center, a new department in CEWD that focuses on delivering accelerated, competency-based, credential-bearing and market-relevant training to the unemployed, underemployed and marginalized members of our community.

The eight members of the pilot cohort completed modules including Customer Service Excellence, CompTIA A+ and Work Ethic. They also engaged in two Lunch-and-Learn sessions with regional employers including TechSmith, TEKsystems, and Neogen, all of which are actively hiring entry-level IT positions.

The cohort was 75% minority and boasted a 100% completion rate.

The Job Training Center also identified and worked with regional funding sources, so all those who participated in the training did so at no cost to themselves. Funding was provided by Michigan Rehabilitation Services and the Workforce Innovation Opportunities Act, administered through Capital Area Michigan Works! Funding not only covered the cost of training, but helped support transportation, technology (including laptops) and cell phone plans. Graduates and their families are pictured.
BCI trains BRP/Triton/Manitou in Aluminum MIG and TIG Welding

Triton Industries Systems selected the Business and Community Institute (BCI) to deliver 40 hours of welding training. This program trains people in Gas Metal Arc Welding (MIG) and Tungsten Inert Gas (TIG) Welding. The program includes welding safety and focuses on flat and horizontal welding and inspection. The second half of the program helps develop the skills of production welding for quality and speed. The BCI is providing the welding training on five consecutive Saturdays so as to not disrupt the client’s production schedule.

BCI presents at the Shiawassee Regional Chamber of Commerce AM Networking Event

The Business and Community Institute (BCI) had the opportunity to present to more than 30 members of the Shiawassee Regional Chamber of Commerce on training programs available to the Shiawassee Business Community. BCI answered questions and had numerous conversations with regional business owners and managers to build valuable relationships in Shiawassee County.

BCI trains Federal Highway Administration on Time Management and Improving Productivity

The Federal Highway Administration selected the Business & Community Institute (BCI) to train their employees in Time Management and Improving Productivity. This training examined current habits and routines and helped to prioritize their time schedule and daily tasks. Additionally, it presented ways to store information and supplies and to organize personal and professional workspaces. Using organizational skills, participants learned strategies to improve productivity, better their management skills and experience an overall increase in professional growth.

BCI delivers Excel I & II training

The Business and Community Institute (BCI) offered multi-company training forums on Microsoft Excel I and II. Excel I topics included creating worksheets, formatting, manipulating data, charts, output, settings and templates. It is ideal for those looking to improve upon Excel proficiency.

Excel II topics included managing workbooks, named ranges, tables, summarizing data, PivotTables, presentation features, advanced charts and collaboration.
BCI gives TED Talk at the Greater Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce

Business and Community Institute Business Development Managers Rod Holmes and Carrie Bonofiglio presented a TED Talk at the Greater Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce (GBACC) with GBACC President Pam McConeghly. This was an opportunity to provide information about training offered by the BCI to the GBACC members. Holmes and Bonofiglio talked about how training is customized to meet individual companies’ needs and gave examples of recent training provided. This enabled the BCI to create awareness and strengthen relationships in Livingston County.

LCC’s Celebrates National Cyber Security Awareness Month

LCC’s Information Security Department celebrated National Cyber Security Awareness Month in October by leading several exciting activities for LCC employees and students. First, students received the Back-to-School Cybersecurity Checklist that included the top 10 tips on protecting themselves on the internet. Similarly, employees received four articles in The Star newsletter on ‘Cybersecurity Best Practices for Remote Workers’, ‘Confidential File Storage’, ‘Password Manager Set-Up’ and ‘Phishing Identification.’ New this year and based on the successful ‘Tech Tips of the Week’ series in The Star, we created short, humorous Tech-Tok videos to motivate users on how to keep their computers secure. The Information Security Department also proactively phished all LCC employees to test their phish identification skills. Additionally, the LCC Help Desk released daily Twitter tweets to inform the community, employees and students with cybersecurity advice. Finally, the Information Security department participated in SecureWorld, GrrCon, and Michigan Cyber Summit conferences to keep up-to-date on cyber threats.
